

beautiful Sunset in the horizon. Nice music were assisting the participants during this nice dinner.

The Day 2 has been continued with an interesting Keynote speaker from PMI Japan, Mr. Hirotoshi Kamba, PMP who has spoken about the disaster recovery after the recent tsunami hit in Japan. Participants were listening carefully in how PMI Japan contributed to help this project. Afterwards, the event was continued by a prominent speaker from Australia, Prof. Lynn Crawford from Bond University speaking about strategy of project management. She has been working in a lot of project management researches and contribution in many project management organizations in the world. Shortly before the lunch break, CTO Indosat, Mr. Hans Moritz has broken the ice, as he pointed out the beauty of project management and how it is applied in Indosat as Platinum Sponsor. It was not only an interesting topic and also important to know that project management means nothing without support from top management.

Finally the event was concluded by another distinguished speaker, Dr. Bambang Susantono, a Vice Minister of Transportation of Indonesia, who also pointed out the importance of having PM excellence in delivering infrastructure of transportation in Indonesia. He has been flying from India, to fulfill PMI Jakarta Indonesia Chapter as Keynote Speaker in Symex 2011. The chapter felt very honored to have him in the event. The chapter president has closed the event and to remind the participants to claim their PDU for this event and to gain the most benefits out of this event.

The PMI Jakarta Indonesia Chapter would thank to all stakeholders incl.

speakers, participants, sponsors and the organizers who have made the event happened and the chapter looks forward to see again in Symex 2012.

The first PMI Indonesia Chapter's International Project Management Conference

International Symposium & Exhibition (SymEx) 2011

The ultimate day has arrived. The first international event that has been waited for years has finally come to the execution during 7-8 December 2011 in Bali, Indonesia. Many prominent speakers from all around the world, VVIP Guest, high ranking government officers, PM researchers have gathered to share their knowledge, skills and experiences in this great event.

After having almost 6 months preparation, the chapter has appointed an Event Organizer to manage this event that was also supported with the BoD. List of identified sponsors, speakers and also potential participants have been prepared and sent out to optimize the execution of this event. There was around more than 150 persons (incl. speakers) have attended the Symex 2011 that was located in a beautiful resort Laguna in Nusa Dua area, Bali. Great place with nice facilities among other facilities such booths and other infrastructure required for this event.

The event has been proceeded with 2 (two) tracks which are industry and process oriented subjects. The event has been opened by having speech from PMI Jakarta Indonesia Chapter President, Mohammad Ichsan, PMP, who has stressed the importance of this event for Indonesian PM Practitioners and continued by keynote speaker Dr. Achmad Hermanto Dardak, Vice Minister of Public Works of Indonesia, who stated the importance of project management professionals in building infrastructure in Indonesia. The other prominent speaker who spoke about the PMO application was Mr. Thomas R. Schneider, PMP, PgMP, Head of Services of PT NSN Indonesia one of a Platinum Sponsor of this Event. He is indeed the first PgMP certified person in Indonesia as he is the PMI Jakarta Indonesia chapter member. The first half of Day 1 has been carried out in splitting the event into tracks. Some of participants were confused to choose the track as both of tracks were interesting and important. The Day 1 were closed successfully and it was continued with a nice and beautiful dinner in the evening in Klapa Restaurant in Pecatu area, where participants could see the

How to Torture Your Project Manager?

If you like your project manager, this is a list of things not to do. But if they really deserve it, here are proven ways to drive them mad.

- 1 Never give specific odds or probabilities. Always make ambiguous commitments like "Probably", "we may be able to do that" or "it's possible".
- 2 Demand everything ASAP, instead of by an actual deadline.
- 3 Agree to a decision. Then the next time its mentioned, pretended you have no idea what they are talking about.
- 4 Take surprise week long vacations.
- 5 Do not disagree directly. Wait until you are both in the presence of their boss, or bosses boss, and intensely disagree then.
- 6 Blame them for everything, but never give them any power.
- 7 Accept meeting requests immediately, but don't ever show up.
- 8 Avoid short phone conversations in favor of obfuscated 20 email long multi-person threads.
- 9 Once a week, try to do one of: double the scope, slash the schedule in half, discover a new stakeholder.
- 10 Break into their schedule spreadsheet at night, and replace all the estimates with random numbers.
